Farmers Market Rules: Fair, Simple, Enforceable and Legal

Market rules don't exist to serve as monuments to legal requirements but to serve the needs of the market and the participating vendors and customers.

This set of rules is a legal contract that creates enforceable obligations for all parties involved. It is intended to create predictability in operation, uniformity in expectation, and consistency in application. However, the implementation of rules will not be overly officious. There will be flexibility from the judgement and discretion of the Market Manager.

The rules will be reviewed and amended as needed, but no less than annually. The Market Manager will be responsible for this review, and shall submit the amended document to the Broadway Hometown Partnership, and to the vendors for discussion and final review.
